Tartar Teen Talk

By Pam Anderson

The Indians are coming—here and so grateful for and going! The Papagos made Tartars realize that they should be grateful for everything they have been taking for granted. A special commendation should go to the entire student council and student congress who worked so hard to make the Papago visit perfect in every way. A special thank you goes to Kenny Roberts and Patsy Landerville and Dr. Carl Ahee who gave most of their Easter vacation time to spend with the Papagos.

TORRANCE has many things to be proud of and many trophies and winners to prove it. Now we have one more to add to the long growing list. Last week at the Teenage Fair held in Hollywood, one of our own Torrance High students was crowned Miss Teenage Fair. Cara Armstrong, senior and head cheerleader, received a $1,000 scholarship and a Yamaha along with the honor of being named queen of the annual fair.

Spring is here and along with sunny beaches and spring fever comes the baseball team. Last year the baseball team went far in CIF playoffs. With the support of the students, Tartars can make it two in a row. Baseball games are every Tuesday and Thursday at 3 p.m. Later . . .

South Side

By Lynne Alessio

South will return to slavery Friday, when Quill and Scroll stages the annual Slave Day. This event is a "battle of the sexes" to see who buys the most Slave Day tickets, sold for a nickel apiece. The side which loses becomes slaves for a day to the other. For each request by a "master," he must present a ticket to the slave performing the task. The outcome of the sales will be announced Friday morning, and tickets are good only April 19. Neither side is favored, for although the boys won last year, the girls won two years ago. All proceeds go to the scholarship fund for senior journalism students.

The new "W" building opened last Monday, taking in the classes that were meeting in the library and giving classrooms to teachers not already assigned one. The project was begun early in the school year. It is the first collapsible building on the campus.

Results from Operation Nepal have been made official. The gross profit was $37,000, making the net profit $7,000. The money has been presented to the Peace Corps who will take charge of building the school in Banepa, Nepal.

Girls' and Boys' State representatives for the coming summer are juniors Paula Keener and David Brenner. Teacher recommendation and selection by counselors and the principal offers the chance to these students to learn much about the government and how it operates. They will be given a chance to run for both "city" and "state" offices. The Girls' State site is at the University of California at Davis campus during the latter part of July. The State Fairgrounds in Sacramento will hold Boys' State in mid-June.

Dinner To Open Festival

A dinner and reception commemorating the 100th anniversary of the birth of Spanish composer Enrique Granados has been scheduled Sunday.

Sponsored by the Torrance Recreation Department and the South Bay-Torrance Symphony, the program will open the city's first Spanish festival and includes Spanish dancing and music.

A reception is scheduled prior to the dinner at 6 p.m. to introduce guest artist Amparo Iturbi, who will be heard in concert Friday, May 3.

Location for the dinner-reception is the Joslyn Center, 3335 Torrance Blvd. Reservations for the dinner are $2.50.
